

2022 Collaborative Science of Home Visiting Meeting May 4 – 5, 2022

Wednesday – May 4, 2022

1:00pm – 1:20pm Opening Plenary – Welcome and Overview of the Meeting

Anne Duggan (Johns Hopkins University)

Kyle Peplinski (HRSA)

Aleta Meyer (ACF OPRE)

1:25pm – 2:30pm Concurrent Abstract Sessions

Session #1 – Contextual Factors as Moderators

Moderator: Jill Filene (James Bell Associates)

Does Customized Care Improve Parent Satisfaction and Enablement in Sustained Home Visiting for Mothers and Children Experiencing Adversity?

Kie Kanda (Western Sydney University)

Differential Profiles of Maternal Social Support at Enrollment in Home Visiting and Relation to Parenting Stress

Nichole Nidey (Cincinnati Children's Hospital)

Session #2 – Adoption of Interventions into Home Visiting

Moderator: Darius Tandon (Northwestern University)

From CQI to Precision Research – Promoting Father Figures' Involvement in Home Visiting and Parenting

Helen Milojevich (University of Oklahoma)

Integrating Financial Stability and Financial Literacy Programming into Home Visiting

Christine Callahan (University at Albany)

2:30pm – 2:45pm Break

2:45pm – 3:45pm Incorporation of Precision Home Visiting Evaluation Principles in the MIECHV's Coordinated State Evaluation Effort

Matthew Poes (James Bell Associates)

Laura Sherman (HRSA)

Kate Teague (University of Georgia)

Kathryn Sibley (Texas Department of Family and Protective Services)

Jessica Goldberg (Tufts University)

Rebecca Fauth (Tufts University)

3:50pm – 4:20pm Concurrent Discussion Breakouts

- Topic 1 – Incorporating a diversity, equity and inclusion lens into precision home visiting research (Moderated by Brenda Jones Harden)
- Topic 2 – Considering mode of delivery – what is the evolving role of technology in home visiting? (Moderated by Deb Daro)
- Topic 3 – Deeper dive into the work incorporating precision home visiting into evaluative research (Moderated by Matthew Poes)

Thursday – May 5, 2022

1:00pm – 2:00pm An Update on HARC's Progress and Vision for the Future

Moderator: Kay O'Neill (Johns Hopkins University)

Data Sharing and Interoperability Nichole Sturmfels (James Bell Associates)

Building the Precision Paradigm Lori Burrell (Johns Hopkins University)

Emerging Home Visiting Research Issues Allison West (Johns Hopkins University)

Mentoring Early Career Researchers Deb Daro (Chapin Hall at the University of Chicago)

Vision for a Dynamic Network Jon Korfmacher (Chapin Hall at the University of Chicago)

2:05pm – 2:35pm Concurrent Discussion Breakouts

- Topic 1 – Emerging home visiting research issues (Moderated by Allison West)
 - Topic 2 – HARC's vision for a dynamic research network (Moderated by Jon Korfmacher)
 - Topic 3 – Where the field needs to move in order to effectively mentor early career researchers (Moderated by Deb Daro)
-

2:35pm – 2:50pm Break

2:50pm – 4:00pm Concurrent Abstract Sessions

Session #1 – Addressing Health Equity through Home Visiting and the Early Childhood System of Care

Moderator: Clinton Boyd Jr. (Chapin Hall at the University of Chicago)

Mapping Social Determinants of Health and MIECHV-funded Programs to Begin Understanding how Home Visiting can Advance Health Equity

Christina Padilla (Child Trends)

Timeliness of Early Identification and Referral of Infants with Social and Environmental Risks

Rebecca Fauth and Chie Kotake (Tufts University)

Session #2 – Mode of Delivery – Introducing New Technology in Home Visiting

Moderator: Jon Korfmacher, PhD (Chapin Hall at the University of Chicago)

A Web Application to Guide Precision Home Visiting: Effects on Parent-Child Interactions and Infant-Toddler Language Growth

Jay Buzhardt and Dale Walker (University of Kansas)

Implementing Attachment and Biobehavioral Catch-up via Telehealth: Maintaining Fidelity and Effectiveness

Mary Dozier (University of Delaware)

4:00pm – 4:30pm Closing Session – The Next Five Years

Allison West (Johns Hopkins University)

Join us on Twitter @hv_harc! #HARCmtg22